

Use Case

Software Company - ERP

▶ The Customer

The software company for business applications in an international environment with subsidiaries in Germany, Switzerland and the USA has been offering successful project work for more than 25 years in both the upper middle class and globally operating large companies as well as for rapidly expanding companies in various industries.

▶ The Challenge

The old system could not meet the growing requirements of a modern financial solution and had to be replaced by a modern ERP tool that takes the existing structures into account, maps country-specific regulations and allows extensions for integrated business processes.

▶ The Solution

With Oracle NetSuite, the company has found a solution that allows a step-by-step implementation combined with process optimization, while integrating company- and country-specific guidelines in a quick and easy way. The expansion of the Oracle Planning & Budgeting Cloud as well as the creation of individual reports were implemented with little effort. Thanks to the connection of the Oracle Sales Cloud, back office and front office along with project management activities can be digitized, resulting in a better overview and direct data flow between the solutions used for more transparency within the company.
